Report:

In the modern world, as the human population increases and the quality of lifestyle also improves, the energy demand has skyrocketed. Hydrogen gas is the best alternative for sustainable energy and fuel to mitigate carbon footprint-based energy resources and to build renewable and green energy economy. Designing an energy-efficient, cost-effective bio-inspired synthetic catalyst for green H₂ production is in high demand. Vitamins B₆ molecules are generally used in biology for drug preparation, but their use in synthetic catalyst design remained unscratched. Herein, we have incorporated vitamers into an artificial cobalt complex and formed a highly stable molecular catalyst for promising H₂ production. The amine, alcohol, and phosphate on a pyridinyl framework were added as an OCS feature around the cobalt core. The resulted complexes produced substantial amounts of H₂ from water under high temperature, oxygen, and natural sunlight featuring an all-weather-ready catalyst. Among all complexes, the B₆vitamerpyridoxamine-bound complex illustrated superior catalytic performance in photocatalytic (TON 132) and electrocatalytic conditions (TOF 3635 s⁻¹, overpotential 321 mV at 60 °C). XRD study suggests the binding mode of pyridoxamine moiety via amine functionality instead of typical pyridine binding, providing structural flexibility of the basic functionality present at OCS.

Report:

A one-day workshop on Communicative English and Personality Development was organised by IQAC, Katwa College in collaboration with the George Telegraphy Institute, Kolkata for the benefit of students of Katwa College. Report:

Dharmaśāstra is a genre of Indian cultural texts, that refers to the code of conduct for an individual and code of law for the society. As the term suggests, it is a treatise of Dharma. Dharma according to Indian concept is the ethical way of life one must follow for the well-being of the creation. The Dharmaśāstras were composed either in the form of aphorisms or verses. The origin of Dharmaśāstra is rooted in the Kalpasūtras (Dharmasūtras in particular), one of the six Vedāṅgas. Later, Manu, Yajnavalkya and other sages prepared Smṛtis at various ages according to the need of the then society. The Dharmaśāstra texts preach the codes under three distinct categories– Ācāra, Vyavahāra and Prāyaścitta. Some of the smṛtis discuss the three categories while some discuss the codes partly. Interestingly, the Vedas, the Purāṇas, the Rāmāyaṇa and the Mahābhārata are the kernel of the Dharmaśāstra. The Dharmasūtras and the smṛtis have derived many ideas from these texts only. In a nutshell, the Dharmaśāstra is the basic guideline for all the facets of life in India from the ancient times.

The core idea of the seminar is to explore the deep-rooted link of Dharmaśāstra in the day-to-day individual, social, political life through the length and breadth of the land. It seems that the Dharmaśāstra can be the guide for the sustainable development goals for the mankind

Report:

Today the scope for traditional employment has declined and the youth will have to take up entrepreneurial opportunities for financial security and creating employment. However, the mindset of most students specially in rural areas are still not geared towards taking advantage of entrepreneurial opportunities and entering the field of self-employment through startups etc. The Principal, Katwa College spoke to the students regarding entrepreneurial education and employment opportunities and motivated them to explore the field of enterprise. He addressed questions and doubts from the students and exhorted them to seriously think of these opportunities.
